

Astralis Group Plc

PEOPLE DEVELOPMENT MANAGER - (9 months)

Location: London

Salary: £45000 - £50000

Reference: AQI2616

Our client a leading international Professional Services organisation is currently looking to recruit a People Development Manager for a 9 month maternity cover based in central London.

Working closely with the Head of People Development you will design and deliver the learning & development solutions, supporting line partners and managers in their people management development and responsibilities. You will deliver policies, processes programmes and courses that develop and retain people at all levels within the organisations.

You will be experienced at working at a senior level ideally within a professional services environment and have a proven track record of influencing at senior levels. You should have strong Talent, OD, Learning & development knowledge as well as good experience of running a successful People development team.

